

Iveagh

The strict Palladian proportions of this Portland stone chimneypiece, with its crisp mouldings and carved hipped shelf, echo a number of English and Irish house facades of the early 18th Century. The inspired work of Andrea Palladio (1508-1580) was revived and popularised in England by William Kent.

Dimensions

External height 70in (177.8cm) width 71½in (181.6cm)

Internal height 43¾in (111.2cm) width 45in (114.4cm)

Depth 9⅝in (24.5cm)